University of Montana Western and Women's Resource Center Seek Anonymous Survivor Stories for After the Quiet Community Production

The University of Montana Western and the Women's Resource Center (WRC) are partnering to present After the Quiet, a monologue production that explores the realities of life after leaving domestic violence. As part of the project, survivors are invited to anonymously share their stories to help shape the production.

After the Quiet will bring authentic survivor voices to the stage through a series of original monologues that reflect both the challenges and the resilience experienced after leaving an abusive relationship. By sharing stories of hardship, healing, hope, and personal growth, the production seeks to increase awareness, foster empathy, and educate the community about the lasting impacts of domestic violence.

Survivors of domestic violence are encouraged to submit an original, anonymous monologue based on their experiences after leaving an abusive relationship. Rather than telling an entire life story, submissions should focus on one meaningful moment, event, or experience that reflects an important part of their journey. All submissions will remain anonymous and will be thoughtfully reviewed for inclusion in the production.

"After the Quiet is about creating space for survivor voices to be heard," said Izzi Simonsen, Programs Manager at the Women's Resource Center. "By sharing their experiences, survivors can help educate our community, reduce stigma, and remind others that they are not alone."

The University of Montana Western and the Women's Resource Center hope the production will encourage meaningful conversations about domestic violence, healing, and the strength it takes to rebuild a life after abuse.

Survivors interested in contributing are invited to submit their stories anonymously through the After the Quiet submission form.

For more information about the project or to request the submission link, please contact Izzi at izzi@wrcmt.org.

Whole Food Health Minute
Stinging Nettle

Runny nose? Itchy, watery eyes? Welcome to hay fever season. Before you resign yourself to a summer full of tissues, let's talk nettle — yes, the stinging kind you dodge on hiking trails and thank profusely by allergy season.

Nettle is a nutritional powerhouse: vitamins A, C, and a full spread of B's, all essential amino acids, plus calcium, iron, magnesium, phosphorus, potassium… basically the whole mineral alphabet.

But its real magic for allergy season? Research shows nettle calms inflammation in the nasal passages and blocks the histamine receptors responsible for your sneezing, itching, and watering eyes. Bonus perks: prostate support, healthy blood sugar, and liver love.

Easiest way to get it in: brew it as a tea, chill it, and sip it all day as a nutrient-rich iced tea.

Get yours today at Mighty Oak Mercantile the "Nourishing" tea blend. Tea Time Happy Hour: Wed–Sat, 2–3pm

Good health is built day by day, starting with real food.

State Auditor James Brown Informs Montanans About Fraud Warning Signs, Resources as Part of State Elder Justice Summit

State Auditor James Brown delivered a presentation on elder fraud and abuse as part of the Montana Department of Justice's Elder Justice Summit, held in Kalispell on July 22. Older Montanans are frequently targeted by perpetrators of financial abuse and fraud schemes. That's why Auditor Brown has made public outreach and education – specifically to seniors – a top priority of his administration.

From 2020 to 2024, the number of older adults who reported losses of $100,000 or more in a fraud scheme increased nearly sevenfold, according to the Federal Trade Commission. Fraudsters and scammers often target older Montanans because of their larger savings and retirement account balances, as well as their increased vulnerability due to social isolation, health issues, or unfamiliarity with emerging technologies like AI and cryptocurrency.

At the Elder Justice Summit, Auditor Brown reported that senior-targeted scams are often successful because the perpetrators manipulate emotions and create a sense of urgency to act on the part of the victim. Auditor Brown shared that the agency's Securities Division has received 54 fraud complaints so far in 2026, three-quarters of which concerned victims over the age of 60.

Auditor Brown urged Montanans to be on the lookout for signs of a scam, including perpetrators:

- Pretending to be a trustworthy official or friend;
- Offering to solve a problem or provide a prize;
- Pressuring victims to act immediately;
- Requesting payment in unusual ways (e.g. gift cards or cryptocurrency).

Auditor Brown also advised summit attendees about the most common types of elder fraud:

Romance scams | Perpetrator develops a fake romantic relationship with the victim, often preying on people who are lonely or isolated

Grandparent scams | Perpetrator poses as the victim's grandchild or another loved one, requesting money for medical bills, legal services, or other urgent needs

Tech Support scams | Fake pop-up ads, calls, or text messages inform the intended victim of a problem with their computer or cellphone, connecting them to a perpetrator who requests payment to "fix" their device

On a positive note, Auditor Brown reported that his office, in partnership with Montana financial institutions, has stopped more than $2 million in fraud-related losses for 16 Montanans so far this year.

Victims of a scam or fraud, as well as their advocates, can reach out to the agency for assistance at 406-444-2040.

Attorney General Knudsen, MVD extend driver license and ID fee waivers through September

Attorney General Austin Knudsen announced the Montana Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) is extending the fee waiver for some renewal and replacement driver license and identification card fees through September. The fee waiver, which was expected to last through July 31, was first announced last month by Attorney General Knudsen to encourage Montanans to add the new black eagle-in-flight citizenship marker on their credential in honor of America's 250th birthday.

Since July 1, more than 18,000 Montanans, or 91 percent of customers, added the citizenship marker to their credential.

Fees will be waived for Montanans who come into MVD offices looking to add the new citizenship marker to their driver license, REAL ID, and CDL credentials. MVD will waive anywhere from $10.30 and $68.50 per transaction, depending on the type of credential issued.

MVD will be waiving REAL ID replacement and renewal fees. The replacement of a REAL ID typically costs $10.30, that fee will be waived for those adding the citizenship marker, and there is no REAL ID fee associated with a replacement. The cost for a new or renewed driver license with a REAL ID is typically $67.47. Through September, Montanans will only pay $25 for a renewal of their REAL ID to cover the REAL ID fee, which will not be waived for any credential.

In 2025, the Montana Legislature passed and the Governor signed Senate Bill 91, sponsored by Sen. Theresa Manzella, which required driver licenses and identifications cards to display citizenship status. Subsequently, the Montana Motor Vehicle Division made the addition and launched new driver licenses and IDs. The new credential is more secure, featuring elements to help reduce driver license fraud and identity theft, making it one of the most secure credentials in the nation.

To add the citizenship marker, Montanans may be required to provide additional documentation, including one of the following documents: Valid U.S. Passport, Government Certified U.S. Birth Certificate, Certificate of Citizenship or Naturalization, Consular Report of Birth Abroad

Under the direction of Attorney General Knudsen, MVD launched a new driver services system that decreased appointment times and improved wait times for appointments. In some offices, Montanans can get same-day or next-day appointments. MVD does recommend scheduling an appointment in advance through MVD Online Services. For information, visit the Citizenship Marker webpage.
