Gallery of Hope Brings Art, Hope and Community Together to Benefit Women's Resource Center

The Women's Resource Center (WRC) will host its biennial Gallery of Hope fundraiser on Saturday, August 22, from 4-8 p.m. at El Western Cabins & Lodges, 4787 US-287 in Ennis. This meaningful event brings together Montana artists, local businesses, and community members for an evening of art, connection, and support for survivors of domestic and sexual violence and human trafficking.

This year's theme, "Inspiring Healing," reflects the courage and resilience of the individuals and families served by the WRC. For more than 49 years, the WRC has provided vital, confidential services throughout Madison and Beaverhead Counties, including emergency shelter, advocacy, crisis intervention, and support for survivors working toward safety and healing.

Montana artists have been invited to share their creativity as part of this year's Gallery of Hope, with donated artwork featured in the evening's silent art auction. All proceeds from the auction will directly benefit the WRC and the individuals and families it serves.

The evening will also feature "Quick Finish," a live clay demonstration with Montana sculptor and artist Mary Michael. Guests will have the opportunity to watch Mary create and finish a piece of clay artwork, offering a firsthand look at the artistic process. Mary has been sculpting since 1989 and is known for her bronze sculpture work throughout Montana, including two large bronze sculptures of Sacajawea that have become part of the cultural landscape of Three Forks and Livingston.

The Gallery of Hope is made possible through the generosity of participating artists, sponsors, local businesses, and community members who believe in the power of art to inspire hope and healing. The event offers an opportunity for the community to come together while helping sustain the WRC's vital services at a time when demand continues to grow.

Guests can enjoy dinner and refreshments throughout the evening, with Fully Loaded Tacos and Campfire Pizza food trucks serving food and Longbranch Saloon providing champagne and beverages. Jesse Taylor will provide live music on the patio throughout the evening.

The event is free and open to the public.

For more information contact the WRC at (406) 683-6106, www.wrcmt.org. The Gallery of Hope is co-sponsored by Resolute Roots Realty and Vessie Properties - eXp Realty.

Dillon Residents Raise Safety Concerns After Deer Carcass Found and Reports of Gunfire

Jeremy Crawford, Southwestern Montana News

Residents near Kentucky and Barnett streets are expressing growing concern after a dead deer was found decomposing on vacant property in their neighborhood.

Neighbors contacted Southwestern Montana News after saying their reports to local authorities had not been addressed. On Thursday afternoon, a Southwestern Montana News reporter visited the alley between Kentucky and Barnett streets and observed the deer carcass on the property.

Residents allege that, for several months, a white four-door pickup has traveled through the alley and surrounding areas, including Kentucky Street, Barnett Street and Overland Road, while someone inside reportedly fired at rabbits and deer.

Southwestern Montana News has not independently verified the vehicle owner's identity or determined who may have discharged the firearm.

One resident described an earlier incident involving a wounded white-tailed doe that ended up on a nearby lawn and front porch. The resident said she was afraid to leave her home because she was concerned the injured animal could become aggressive.

According to the neighbor, a Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks game warden removed the deer after it died.

Residents said they contacted the City of Dillon and FWP about the latest carcass but had not received a response as of last Thursday afternoon.

Southwestern Montana News later spoke with game warden Kerry Wahl. Wahl said he had not previously been contacted about the carcass and would go to the area to remove it.

Beyond concerns about the dead animals, neighbors said their primary concern is public safety. They fear that continued shooting in the residential area could eventually result in someone being struck by a stray bullet.

Hoot-owl restrictions, mouth closures lifted on several streams in southwest Montana

Some sections of the Big Hole River will close to angling. The restrictions had been in effect because of warm water temperatures. Hoot-owl restrictions prohibit fishing from 2 p.m. to midnight each day.

As stream temperatures decrease, several hoot-owl restrictions and river-mouth closures will be lifted on Aug. 13. At the same time, streamflows are also decreasing, triggering angling closures on sections of the Big Hole.

Based on criteria outlined in the Big Hole Drought Plan, the following sections will close to angling Aug. 13 until conditions improve:

Section 1 of the Big Hole River, which extends from Saginaw Bridge on Skinner Meadows Road to the confluence with the North Fork of the Big Hole River.

Section 5 of the Big Hole River, which extends from Tony Schoonen FAS (Notch) to the confluence with the Beaverhead River.

Water conservation efforts continue to be important to Montana's fisheries. FWP is actively managing water it is responsible for as well as collaborating with stakeholders, such as irrigators, to maintain river and streamflows.

Anglers can reduce stress on fish at all times of the year by getting fish to the net or in hand quickly, keeping them in the water, and reviving them prior to releasing them back into the river.

Go to the MT FWP website for restrictions and closures.
